

EMBEDDING RESILIENCE INTO FIXED INCOME PORTFOLIOS

Falling inflation and interest rates over the last 40 years created a tailwind for fixed income returns which we do not expect to be repeated over the next 5 to 10 years.

Investors are being forced to take more and more interest rate and credit risk to secure ever diminishing returns from fixed income.

The Aviva Investors Multi-Strategy (AIMS) Fixed Income strategy can help to address the current challenges faced by fixed income investors and how our strategy aims to deliver enhanced returns over cash with lower volatility than global fixed income with a low correlation to traditional fixed income asset classes.

Joubeen Hurren

Main responsibilities

Joubeen is a co-manager of the AIMS Fixed Income portfolio. Joubeen is a permanent member of the Strategic Investment Group ('SIG'), where all investment ideas that are proposed for inclusion in the AIMS portfolios are rigorously debated.
